Hi Wendy,

I know that it is going to be two years June 14th that I was in the accident. Some times it feels like it was yesterday and other days it feels like it was a lifetime ago.

I remember Christine coming into the hospital room telling me that she would take care of everything. My job was to get back on my feet. Well, I did get back on my feet and you all did take care of everything for me. No words will ever express the thanks.

Being in a wheel chair from June to almost August taught me a great deal about myself, the people around me, and never walk by someone in wheel chair without asking them if they need help. It was hard for me to sit on the sideline though and let everyone else do the research and the footwork. I am so used to being [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. This part was very hard.

I give God extra thanks every day for my life and my legs. Through this accident I have met a lot of wonderful people that I will never forget as my life moves forward. A lot of the wonderful people that I have met are now my friends.

Thank you all very much,

C [REDACTED]
